

The Lincoln Commission on Human Rights Art Project Description

The Lincoln Commission on Human Rights is excited to bring Community Outreach Restoring Art to Lincoln, "CORAL on the 3rd," a community art project located on the third floor of the City/County Building. The purpose of this project is to bridge the City with the community, bringing diversity, culture and conversation to a building that people might find intimidating. It is the hope that with the "CORAL on the 3rd," project we can focus on different themes throughout the year such as; Women's Month, Social Justice Art from schools, Mature Adult Art 55+, Employee Art, Cultural Community Specific. The art will be displayed through the third of the month on a quarterly basis.
