CEDARS Pioneers Center Youth Emergency Shelter Crisis Continuum Services will ensure youth have a safe, stable placement while they await a more permanency placement. Typically, youth are placed in this level of care as an alternative to detention, to reduce long-term legal system involvement and move toward placement stability. These youth often have unaddressed trauma and mental health which leads to risk and criminogenic factors including anxiety/depression, antisocial attitudes and lack of concern for others. Through crisis continuum services youth will be able to identify personal triggers for crises involving family and engage in healthy practices to improve well-being. During their stay youth will increase their positive attitude, use of coping skills, problem-solving skills, interact with positive adult role models and create healthier and more positive peer relationships.
