

Leadership AND Well-Being

TUESDAY
DECEMBER 15TH
11:30 AM-12:30 PM
VIA ZOOM

Competency Bucket: Leading Positive Change

Dr. Tim Hodges

Tim Hodges, PhD is the executive director of the Clifton Strengths Institute, professor in the UNL College of Business, and a Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach. He works with individuals and teams to maximize their strengths and increase performance, engagement, and well-being in their education, career, and throughout their lives.

Dr. Hodges has enjoyed a nearly 20-year career as a research consultant at Gallup, Inc. His work at Gallup has included leading research projects in strengths development, employee selection and employee engagement with a variety of clients in education and business. Dr. Hodges has delivered hundreds of presentations and written dozens of journal articles, research reports, and academic book chapters.

Dr. Hodges received a bachelor's degree in agribusiness, a master's degree in leadership education and a doctorate in business from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Clifton Strengths: Maximizer | Relator | Belief | Woo | Positivity

RSVP TODAY!

Presentation Objectives:

- > Champion and facilitate positive change
- > Communicate the need for change
- > Recognize your strengths, gaps and impact on others
- > Use techniques to strengthen self-awareness and balance